THE MARKET

Why Morocco Is the Opportunity

Where the audience already lives

Moroccan youth aged 13–34 spend more hours per week in gaming and creator content than on traditional media. Reaching them through esports is no longer experimental, it's the default.

An ecosystem moving fast

Events like MGEX, Edawry, Battle of Morocco, and Ebotola... have become national scale platforms. Early sponsors secure premium positioning before the market matures.

Crossing into mainstream media

From social media to radio and live events, esports is becoming a mainstream media channel in Morocco
